

CS 325 Data Management

Phase 3: Relational model

Shashank Mehra (13110116)

Nikhil Tank (13110070)

Institute DataBase

Hence 1NF, 2NF and 3NF all are satisfied because there is only one key attribute for each entity and no transitive dependency in the relational model so no normalization is required.

- We have created multivariable attributes (Handler, Job preference, Minor and Skill) into different relation entity and added the attribute Job name, Department name and skill name in it as a key attribute of that relation.